

Index of people's names

At the end of the inventory of the Archives we find a list of names of persons, families, corporations and places mentioned in the text, in alphabetical order. All the numbers we find in the index refer to the number in italic on the upper far right of each card. For example, the first name we find in the index is “Acciaioli Donato Maria di Pier Filippo” (see example card below): a few numbers are listed below the name, referring to the different cards containing information about him. The first number is “149”. We go to the inventory and find the number “149” in italic at the upper far right corner (I put an arrow next to it) of the card “130”. The Italic numbers on the far right upper corner of each card are in numerical order, even though they are a slightly higher number than the one of the section (149 instead of 130), which are also listed in numerical order, in the archives.

Acciaioli Donato Maria son of Pier Filippo
149, 273, 502, 504-505

Looking at the card below we find the name “Donato Acciaioli”, which I will highlight and underline for your convenience, on the second and seventh lines of the card.

Parchment bound Register (9x6x1 inches)

Another parchment bound (10x7 inches) copybook of “Receipts of Mrs. Maria Acciaioli”, from October 12, 1628 to June 25, 1658, is thus described in the same shelfmark “L.7”:

“This little copybook of receipts of the Dowry of Mr. Donato Acciaioli, son of Pierfilippo, and of his daughter Maria today wife of Mr. Tommaso Guadagni, made heiress of her father as appointed by his will, notarized by Alessandro Del Medico, on August 1, 1624, was started on October 12, 1628”.

The second number is “273”, which is on the upper far right corner of the card of section “229”. Here also I will highlight and underline the name Donato Acciaioli, found, only once, on the 14th line of the card of section 229.

Miscellaneous.

Folders and loose papers in envelope..

Records and documents related to the patrimony of Niccolo' Guadagni (1730-1805), son of Ottavio: bills, letters, receipts, announcements, deeds, among which those related to the lawsuits Tidi and Zeffi, those related to the adjustment with the public prosecutor Pietro Fanfani, to the expenses for his brother Pierantonio Guadagni's funeral (1762), to the lawsuit for the principality of Nachod.

It also contains a folder of papers related to Niccolo's grandfather, Pierantonio Guadagni (1629-1709), son of Tommaso (second half of the 17th century), with “Copies of bills paid and adjusted by my brothers Vieri and Donato Maria during my serious illness” (1671-1674); Notes on the valuable objects and clothes and other found at the death of Niccolo's brother, Pierantonio, son of Ottavio (1762); files of the death place of Donato Acciaioli (December 9, 1645), Francesco Guadagni, son of Tommaso (January 19, 1686), and Maria Camilla Del Ruota (May 12, 1732).

We also point out the presence of papers related to the works to be made to Niccolo's houses in Pisa, in San Frediano Square and "Borgo Stretto" ("Narrow Street") (1774-1882); Bills for the works in the house in Florence, in the San Felice neighborhood.

We will now continue with the Index.

I happened to find a picture of the tombstone of Teresa Strozzi Guadagni. Born Teresa Strozzi, she was the wife of Pier Antonio Guadagni (1727-1762) son of Ottavio Guadagni, of the "Nunziata" Branch. Pier Antonio and Teresa married in 1761. Unfortunately Pier Antonio died a year later, in 1762.

Tommaso grew up in it. While our great-grandfather Guadagno inherited Masseto, his sister Aurora Guadagni d'Hoogvorst (daughter-in-law of Saint Aunt Emily, canonized by Pope John Paul II the Great) inherited the Porta a Prato Guadagni Palace and she sold it [She had no children of her own and had married three very wealthy husbands in a row, who owned their own palace] The palace is now the "Headquarters of the Florentine Police" but it is still known as "Guadagni Palace", Florence is the Guadagni Porta a Prato Palace.

It was bought by our great-great-grandmother Luisa Lee Guadagni. Our

Via dei Bardi: Torrigiani Palace (see the tower on the crest above the door).It used to be a Guadagni Palace (one of the 12 largest and most beautiful palaces in Florence, like all the Guadagni Florentine palaces by the way). Alessandro Guadagni (1626-1710) married Monaldesca daughter of Filippo Del Nero in 1650, and inherited the Del Nero Palace from her. Her ancestor, Agostino Del Nero, inherited it in 1552, from Roberto Nesi who built it, and enlarged it. Alessandro Guadagni's great-grandson, Giovanni Battista Guadagni (1729-1806) married Teresa Torrigiani (1739-1786). Their youngest son, Pietro Guadagni (1773-1848), adopted the Torrigiani surname and inherited their fortune. As his older brothers, Filippo and Carlo Guadagni, had no male children he also inherited the Guadagni Del Nero Palace, now called Torrigiani Palace after him.

Back of the Torrigiani Guadagni Palace of via de' Bardi. The back faces the Arno River, upfront, below the picture, the Bridge Alle Grazie, on the left, with people crossing it, the Lungarno ("Street along the Arno River) Torrigiani, named after the palace, the garden with the hedge in front, the gate on the right and trees, a covered "Loggia" on the top floor on the right.

Side of the Torrigiani Palace facing the garden with Loggia on top floor.

Torrighiani Palace in a print of Zocchi in 1744, when it was still called Guadagni Palace. Immediately behind the palace are the beautiful Florentine hills covered with olive trees and cypresses. They are still there, I used to go jogging every day on them when I was a University of Florence student (1963-1968). It takes exactly two minutes or maybe five of walking to go from the front door of the Torrighiani Guadagni Palace to the bottom of the Florentine Hills. The location of the palace is fabulous!
