Subsection: Farm of Le Fonti in Pagnolle (Pontassieve - Florence)

1154

The Farm of Le Fonti was owned in common with the farms of Tigliano, Montecchi and Montemurlo, by the brothers Francesco (1627-1696), Pierantonio (1629-1709) and Vieri (1631-1708) Guadagni, sons of Tommaso (1582-1652), after the divisions with the other brother Donato Maria (1641-1718) (our direct ancestor) in 1682. Only in 1805, after the death of Niccolo’ Guadagni (1730-1805), son of Ottavio (1684-1746), and last of the “Nunziata Branch”, the properties passed to Tommaso Guadagni (1743-1814), son of Donato (1719-1797) and older brother of our great-great-great-grandfather Luigi Guadagni (1751-1799) of the Santo Spirito Branch (our branch).

The registers of the Possessions originally marked from “C.37” to “C.65” and now described in the administration registers of the respective owners, concern, amongst others, the economic management of the farms of Le Fonti and Tigliano. The books marked “C.44”, “C.55” and “C.59” have been seriously damaged by humidity and are described in an appropriate section called “Registers to restore”, in the footnote of the inventory.

Touching the borders of the original property is the Church of San Miniato a Pagnolle, probably on the lower center right of the map, where the 17 century old body of Roman martyr Saint Faustina is kept. It was a gift of Cardinal Giovanni Antonio Guadagni to his family, the Guadagni of Santo Spirito (our branch). It is kept in a transparent glass alcove under the altar of the church for everyone to admire and venerate. It is and will always be owned by the Guadagni Family, who has also the patronage of the church. Miraculously the 17 centuries old body is preserved.

History of the Church of San Miniato a Pagnolle: The church of San Miniato a Pagnolle is mentioned in two Papal Bulls, one in the year 1102 by Pope Pasquale II and the other in 1134 by Pope Innocent II.

It is mentioned in a Vatican document of 1274. In 1301 it has already its own parish. Since 1436, it was united to the San Martino a Maiano Monastery, from which it was detached in 1606. Later on it was under the patronage of the Marchesi Guadagni Family.

Balances of the Farm of Le Fonti 1807-1814

10 registers contained in envelope.

All the registers contain the "Tutorials of the balance" and have listing of the farms and of the workers.

- 1) "Balance, farmers Francesco Curradi of Grand Knight Tommaso Guadagni (1743-1814) and Angiolo Sorelli tutor of the interdict Donato Guadagni (1794-1879) nephew of Tommaso and our direct great-great-grandfather, from whom we all descend, sole administrator Pietro Pannilini (from March 31, 1807 to April 30, 1808), cardboard bound (1x1 inches), cc.74.

Donato was the son of our great-great-great-grandfather Luigi Guadagni (1751-1799), who died when he was only 48 years old, leaving his young children orphans: Donato was only 5 and his older sister Argentina 10. Maybe that is why they needed a tutor as long as they were minors. Their mother was Caterina Catellini da Castiglione (1773-1844), the ancestor of all our Guadagni branch of Santo Spirito (not of the "Nunziata", or of the Dufour Berte or of the Torrigiani). As Wikipedia, the free Encyclopedia, states, a legend says that the Catellini surname derives from the famous Roman conspirator Lucius Segius Catilina ("Catiline" in English), whose name was spelled "Catellina" during the Middle-Ages. History tells us that Catilina belonged to the "Sergia" Family, one of the most ancient and noble families of Rome, whose founder "Sergestus" fled from burning Troy with Aeneas in 1300 B.C.

The Acts of the Apostles (13: 6-13) tells us how Proconsul of Asia Sergius Paulus is converted by Saint Paul. Acts 13:7, also specifies that Sergius is an "intelligent man" The Catholic Jerusalem Bible translates:

“extremely intelligent man”. Is it not fascinating how God himself, who inspired every word of the Bible, goes through the trouble of telling us in writing how our family was converted by Saint Paul? And specifies in writing that our ancestor was “extremely intelligent”? And not through a personal revelation to a Saint, but through the official, eternal, founding document of the Catholic Church and of all Christianity, which all Christians are bound to read, the Bible! If there are more or less one billion Christians in the world (including Catholics, Protestants, Greek-Orthodox, Copts, Armenians, etc), then one billion people must have read at least once or more, it depends how often they read the whole Bible in their lifetime, about the conversion of our ancestor!

Caterina Catellini da Castiglione Guadagni was known to be a very religious and devout person. So was her son, our ancestor, Donato Guadagni. In his memoirs, Donato’s grandson, Giacomo Guadagni, Uncle Adriano’s father and Marco’s grandfather, writes that Donato had a private chapel built in his Porta a Prato Guadagni Palace, where he would attend Mass every day.

In his old age Donato liked to wear his Knight of Malta’s hat, Giacomo recalls. The Knights of Malta were a religious knightly order found during the Crusades. When during the Crusades, Christians Knights from Europe delivered the Holy Sepulchre of Jesus in Jerusalem from the Moslem Arabs, they founded the Order of the Knights Hospitallers of Jerusalem, to protect the Tomb of Jesus from the Moslems and allow Christians pilgrims to go there and pray, and cure their sick (“Hospitallers”).

When several years later, the Arabs reconquered Jerusalem from the Crusaders, the Knights Hospitallers of Jerusalem moved their seat first to the Island of Rhodes then to the Island of Malta, in the Mediterranean Sea, between Sicily and Libya, and were called Knights of Malta. For many centuries they helped European powers to protect themselves from the new Moslem threat to Christian Europe, the Turkish or Ottoman Empire. Several Guadagni, from all the branches of the Family, became Knights of Malta and fought heroically and brilliantly against the Turks. Because of these ancestors, I think the Guadagni are automatically Knights of Malta by right of birth.

I will soon write an article on the heroic lives of all the Guadagni Knights of Malta.

Let us go back to the Guadagni Archives, # 932.
